DON'T DELAY

Canada And Its Future

With the celebration of Dominion Day, Canada completed the fifty-third year of Confederation and was launched out on another year of effort and, it is to be hoped, large national achievement. Judging by some standards the growth and development of Canada during the first half century since Confederation became an accomplished fact has been slow; measured by other standards it has been rapid. In all material respects it has been solid and the foundations laid permanent and good.

Those who incline to the view that our growth has been too slow, and who point to the difficulty of obtaining immigration, and even of retaining native born Canadians at home, residing in a present population of but little more than eight millions of people, should not overlook the fact that geographically this country is so located and divided that it did not lend itself to great growth in population in the earlier years. Great natural barriers had to be overcome, and enormous expenditures made in order to lay the foundations upon which to rear a nation. Much of this work has now been accomplished, and the next fifty years should record developments which will place this country in the front rank of the world's great commonwealths.

Even as recently as fifteen years ago, the great Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, with their present population of approximately 1,500,000 had not been organized, while Manitoba was still in a pioneer stage of development, and the possibilities of British Columbia were but dimly guessed at. Fifteen years may be quite a span in a man's life, but it is but as a fleeting minute in the history of a nation, and the 2,500,000 people now west of the Great Lakes give promise of a wonderful future.

Since confederation, Canada has accomplished some amazing things in a material sense. Always a great agricultural country, it has become a great manufacturing country, an important financial country, and now it is undoubtedly on the eve of a truly remarkable development of its enormous wealth of natural resources, a development which it to be made possible because of the growing needs of the world for those things which Canada can supply, and the fact that this country now enjoys the financial means to carry on such development.

With its great railway systems, the development of its waterways, the creation of a really creditable and rapidly growing merchant marine, its strong financial institutions, all that Canada now requires to make good the prophecy "the twentieth century belongs to Canada" is, more people to engage in productive enterprises, and the cultivation of a truly national spirit which will forever lay at rest the old and bitter racial and religious antagonisms which have so often retarded our growth and divided our people into hostile camps.

While in some respects the Great War served to re-awaken these old antagonisms and create new divisions, Canada's splendid participation in the great world struggle for freedom has also served to arouse a real national spirit. Canada found itself and discovered its soul in that bitter struggle. The nations of the world also discovered Canada. The bitter and narrow political partisanship of former years has been destroyed, and Canadians are now determined to make use of their material strength and resources to develop those other things which make for the health, happiness, contentment and uplift of the whole nation, and the people who themselves constitute the nation.

Canada has entered upon its fifty-fourth year with a minimum of industrial unrest prevailing in its midst, and with the brightest of prospects for a bountiful yield from its fertile fields. It has succeeded in passing through the first two years of the so-called reconstruction period safely and with enhanced credit; its army of returning soldiers have been rehabilitated in civilian life; its trade and commerce is expanding; more important of all its people are more deeply interested than ever before in raising the standard of education, of creating better health conditions, of lifting the political life of the country on to a higher plane.

Canada has great opportunities and a great future before it. But it calls for the best in every individual Canadian to realize these things in their fulness. They demand a broad spirit of tolerance, a sympathetic appreciation of the rights and opinions of others, and hard work along productive lines by all. If such a spirit prevails and is intensively cultivated, Canada is on the highroad to true greatness and abounding prosperity.

Asthma Victims. The man or woman subject to asthma is indeed a victim. What can be more terrifying than to suddenly be seized with paroxysms of choking, which seem to fairly threaten the existence of life itself. From such a condition Dr. J. D. A Wonderful Discovery Cures Catarrh Permanently

Formerly doctors prescribed stomach treatment for Catarrh and Bronchitis. They seldom cured and catarrh has become a national disease. Today the advanced physician fights Catarrh by medicated air. He fills the lungs, nose and throat with the antiseptic vapor of Catarrhoxone. It is easy then for Catarrhoxone to cure. It contains the essences of pure pine balsams, reaches all the germs and destroys the disease. Every case of Catarrh, Bronchitis and Sore Throat can be cured by Catarrhoxone. The dollar outfit lasts two months and is guaranteed to cure; small size $3.00 trial size 25c, all dealers or Catarrhoxone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Ought to Have Own Navy

Hero of Kut so Advises Canada in Address

"If you had started twenty years ago you would have had a respectable navy today." These were the significant words of Major-General Sir Charles Townshend, the hero of Kut, in a short address before delegates to the Dominion Council of the Navy League. He further expressed the opinion that the time has arrived when Canada should have her own fleet of ships as an instrument of self-protection and an aid to the Empire in time of war.

It was an expedient, he declared, that the Dominion of Canada should maintain her own navy. "The whole crux of the situation in Canada today is that she should create a fleet of her own," he said.

HEALTHY CHILDREN ARE HAPPY CHILDREN

The well child is always a happy child—it is a baby's nature to be happy and contented. Mothers, if your little ones are cross and peevish and cry a great deal they are not well—they are in need of medicine—something that will set their bowels and stomach in order, for nine-tenths of all childhood ailments arise from a disordered state of the bowels and stomach. Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, and thus drive out constipation, colic, indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make the baby healthy and happy. Concerning them, Mrs. Albert Hamel, Pierreville, Que., writes:—

"Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for little ones. They relieved my little girl from constipation when nothing else would and I can strongly recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"I don't see why you stick to Dr. Torpor's church," chattered Mrs. Philippe. "He's such a poky old preacher."

"He's just that," agreed her friend, Mrs. Fortynone. "But then you know, the light from that rose window shines right over my pew and makes me look not more than 20 years old."

Manitoba Testing Wireless Telephone

Probable That Government Will Assume Control Over This Communication

Experiments conducted at the request of the Manitoba government with wireless telephone apparatus between Winnipeg and Portage La Prairie, 80 miles away, have been successfully concluded and a second step in the experiments is about to be taken, when conversations will be attempted between Winnipeg and Port William, a distance of nearly 400 miles. The experiments are being taken with a view to testing out a proposed system of wireless to be installed in northern Manitoba.

Mining districts and fur marketing centers are far scattered and sparsely settled. Land wires are costly to install and to maintain owing to falling trees in the bush country. It is proposed to establish some dozen stations at central points in as many districts of the northland, and these will in turn be given communication with the outside by a station of larger power at The Pas, which will work with another similar station at Swan River, 250 miles south of the former place, and in the well settled portion of the province.

Should the wireless telephony prove successful it is probable that the Manitoba government will assume control over this form of communication, just as it has the telephones, and that the wireless will be incorporated in the government telephony system. In this way the government may be able to give service to many isolated points, notably in mining sections east of Lake Winnipeg which cannot now be reached by land wires.

ARCHIE P. MCKISHNIE

Printed by Special Arrangements with Thos. Allen, Toronto, Ont.

Nineteen years ago, Daniel McTavish, or Big McTavish, as he was commonly called on account of his great size, had settled in this spot with the determination of making it a home for himself and wife. The shadowy bushland appealed to him. He set to work with an ax and built a home. Shortly after it was finished a little McTavish was ushered into the world. Meanwhile, two other families had taken up claims nearby. These were Jim Peeler and Ander Declute, and with their wives came over to help name the baby.

Naming a baby in those old days was just as hard as it is in these. Each person had a particular name to fasten upon the new arrival. Peeler wanted to name him Wolfe, after a famous general he had heard of, but his wife protested on the grounds that the government was offering a bounty for wolves and somebody might get mixed up and "kill him off."

Mrs. Declute wanted to call the boy after some Bible hero. Moses, she thought, would be a good name. He looked just like Moses must have looked at his age, she said.

"I'll tell you how we'll decide," said Ander Declute, after the debate had lasted some three hours. "We all of us have a different name we want to hitch to the youngster. I move that we let Mac here write out them names on a piece of paper and we'll pin it to a tree and let the little chap decide for himself."

"Now?" asked the others.

"Well, after we've tacked up the paper somebody'll hold a rifle and we will let the baby pull the trigger. The name the ball comes nearest to we'll choose. What do you say?"

Everybody thought it a capital plan. The baby's mother held the light rifle and pressed the baby's finger on the trigger. The little Bushwhacker did not so much as blink at the report.

"The bullet bored one of the names through the letter O, and the name was B-O-Y."

"That's the one I picked on," grinned Declute, "an' it's a good one."

So the baby was called Boy.

Others came to Bushwhacker's Place and took up homesteads. One, Bill Paisley, drifted in, from nobody knew where, and started camp in 'nearly to Declute's place. He was a tall, angular young man, with blue eyes which laughed all the time, and a firm jaw with muscles that had been toughened by tobacco chewing. His hair was long and inclined to curl, and altogether he was a hearty, fresh, big piece of manhood. He could swing an ax with any man on Bushwhacker's Place, and cut a Turkey's comb chain at eighty yards with his smooth-bore. He needed no other recommendations. The neighbors had a "bee" and helped Paisley up with his house. The Bushwhacker's loved bees and "changin' works," for it brought them together. And although on account of much talking, one man could have accomplished more alone than three could at a bee there was no hurry, and, as Peeler said, "a good visit beat work all hollow, anyway." Whiskey was plentiful and a jug of it could always be seen adorning a stump when a bee or "raisin'" was in progress. But because it was good, cheap and as welcome as the flowers of the woodland, nobody drank very much of it. Maybe it would be a "horn all 'way 'round" after world was done or a "night-cap" after the evening dance was over; for, be it known, no bee or raising was considered complete without a dance in the evening.

Every Bushwhacker's home had a jug of whiskey in it—usually under the back-a-dog on the doorstep, and sheep, pigs and cattle in the barnyard. These barnyards had tall rail fences around them. In the winter months the wolves sometimes tried to scale the fences, and bears tried to dig beneath them. Then the dog would bark and the man would come out with his long brown rifle, and besides bear-steak for breakfast next morning there would be a pelt for the Bushwhacker.

And so the years passed, and the Bushwhackers lived their simple, happy lives and found life good. Little Bushwhackers were born, named, and set free to roam and enjoy the wild as they wished. Sometimes one of them might stray away too far into the big forest, and then there would be a hunt and the little strayaway would be brought safely back.

When the youngsters were old enough to be taught reading and writing their mothers washed their faces with soft home-made soap and sent them over to "Big Mac's" for their lessons.

Mrs. McTavish—a self-educated woman—found great pleasure in teaching these children. They were quick to learn and slow to lose what they were taught. As Peeler put it, "every child should know how to read and write and do sums," so the children of the bush were not allowed to be ignorant in any branch.

Bill Paisley, also, took a hand in instructing the youngsters of Bushwhacker's Place. He taught the boys how to shoot and handle a rifle. It was quite necessary for one who shot to shoot well, as ball and powder were costly commodities. He took the lads on long tramps through the woods when the autumn glow was on the trees. He showed them how to watch a deer-run and taught them how to imitate the wild turkey call.

Boy McTavish was his constant companion, and as a result Boy came to know the wild things of bush and water well. He knew the haunts of the brown and black bears, the gray wolves, and the wary deer. He knew just what part of the clear, deep creek the gamey bass or great muskellunge would be lying in wait for some unsuspecting minnow, and he could find the biggest and finest of them, too. Many a glorious summer morning's sport did he have drifting down the creek in his canoe and out on the white bosom of the Rond Eau-Bay, trolling for bass. Boy loved those beautiful mornings of the summer season when the air was alive with birds and their voices. Through the mist arising from the face of the water he would watch the great bass leap, here and there, a flash of green and gray high in the air, and tumble back to slide and right and dart upon the shiners—were innocent minnow-fishes, swimming happily up the stream like little children just out of school. There would be a shower of little silvery bodies as the minnows in sheer terror leaped from the water before the greedy, cannibal's rush, and Boy's hook, with a slinger impaled upon it, would alight amid the commotion, and there would come a tug at his line that made the strong sapling red head and dip.

Many a string of great, beautiful bass did he catch on this creek close beside his home, sometimes with Paisley, sometimes with Gloss, sometimes alone.

Boy loved these early mornings of his dominion of marsh and wood; for Rond Eau was very beautiful with morning tints upon her face, as up above, the pine-studded Point the lights of dawn came bounding. With that down, swift-winged albatross its arrow of crimson, the white-headed ducks came dipping and sver-

Stops Stomach Gas Prevents Fermentation Aids Digestion

If fermentation of food in the stomach can be prevented, you go a long way towards stopping the most frequent ailment of the day. Doctors who have studied the formula of Dr. Hamilton's Pills say it would be difficult to find a remedy better adapted to stomach ailments. After once using Dr. Hamilton's Pills the stomach is cleared of the sour, fermenting matter that causes gas, heartburn, indigestion and headaches. ving, to settle and feed in the rich rice-beds of the bay.

Along the marshes, blue-winged teal would hiss and whistle in their irregular flight. Earliest of all the wild-ducks, they came when the time was between darkness and daylight. Next came the blacks and grays, quacking their way noisily along the shores. High above them a long, dark line would whistle into view and pass onward with the speed of a cloud-shadow. These were red-heads, newly arrived from the south. Still swift of wing, though weary, they would follow on until their leader called a halt. Now lost against the slate sky, now sweeping into view against a splash of crimson, they would turn and flash along the farther shore, sinking lower with diminished speed as they passed an outstretching point of land. A number of their kind arrived the night before would be feeding and resting there. Onward the line would pass, and then turning, drop down slowly and the ducks would settle among their fellows with muffled spats and heads facing the wind.

Large Families Going Out of Fashion in Young Province

The province of Saskatchewan, although young and still very much in the pioneer stage, with a mixed population gathering from all quarters of the globe and including hundreds of thousands from Central and Southern Europe, is not doing its duty by the nation, according to statistician of the Bureau of Vital Statistics. Large families are going out of fashion, he says, according to his records of 1917 and 1918. Registrations reveal that in the 21,695 families in the province in which a birth was registered in 1918, the average number of children to a family was 3.7. After making allowance for the death rate, the average number is below the standard required to maintain the population, and if immigration should cease, there would be an actual decrease in population.

ULSTER RIOTS MAY SPREAD OVER IRELAND

Believe That Londonderry Trouble
May Have Far-Reaching Effect

LONDON.—Writing of the Londonderry riots, the Belfast correspondent of the London "Times" writes: "The gravest aspect of the present position is that Londonderry may speedily become a mere incident in a much larger setting. For three days rumors have stated that Sinn Féiners from the northwest were concentrating for an attack on the city—and it is not improbable."

"For the first time very large bodies of lawless elements in that city possess deadly weapons, and plenty of ammunition; for the first time the whole city is involved, and not merely a restricted area where the factions live; for the first time the principal victims have been inoffensive people, who have been shot down, not for political or sectarian reasons, but in wantonness. The lawless element over a wide area is being drawn into the conflict, while those who have hitherto held aloof from battles are gradually but surely coming to the conclusion that they must take up weapons."

"The proceedings at Derry possess every element of civil war without any interference worthy of the name from the forces which the government is supposed to control."

"The descent of Sinn Féiners en masse from the countryside, assisted or preceded by a large movement in Ulster, either of which seems possible at any time, will immediately precipitate matters in such a way that the military forces may be engulfed. "Unionists are said to be pouring into the city bent on vengeance, but there is also an exodus of people from the city by road and train. It is reported that artillery has arrived."

Retaliation of Hungary

Hungary Has Begun an Energetic Counter-Boycott Against Austria

VIENNA.—In retaliation for the international transport boycott against Hungary, started on Monday, Hungary has begun an energetic counter-boycott against Austria, whose workmen are taking an aggressive part in the action instituted by the international organization in protest against the alleged Hungarian prosecution of working elements.

Freight and passenger service on the railways and communication by river have been cut off by Hungary. Food barges on the way up the Danube from countries to the East were stopped in Hungarian waters.

In pursuance of international boycott traffic in the direction of Hungary remains totally suspended. Trains from Vienna for Hungary are being held up although they were loaded with passengers ready for the trip. It is reported that Hungary has proposed that leaders of the boycott meet in Vienna to discuss the calling off of the international boycott.

Dispute Referred to League

Sweden and Finland Should Arbitrate
Aland Isles Issue

LONDON.—The London Times announces it has reason to believe that representations have been addressed to the Swedish and Finnish governments on behalf of the allied and associated powers to the effect that Sweden and Finland should refer the question of sovereignty of the Aland Islands to the League of Nations.

Sweden desires a plebiscite in the Aland Islands, which are situated in the Baltic between Finland and Sweden, claiming the majority of the population is of Swedish origin. Finland, however, is holding out against separation of the Archipelago from Finland on the ground that they are more nearly connected with the Finnish mainland and are definitely divided from Sweden.

Appointment of Prince Arthur

Controversy Postponed Regarding Matter of the Governor-
Generalship

LONDON.—The Daily Chronicle remarks on the appointment of Prince Arthur of Connaught as the governor of South Africa, that it postpones for a moment the controversy in which many dominion statesmen, including the present South African premier, are involved as to whether the appointment of an Englishman as governor-general is consistent with the claim of equal partnership.

"This point might sound rather theoretic in view of the great practical services rendered; for example, in South Africa by such governors as Lord Selborne and Buxton, but there is no doubt that it is strongly felt and seriously urged," says the Chronicle. The Chronicle adds that the Duke of Connaught was the most popular governor Canada ever had. The prince, therefore, will sail for South Africa with this fine example in front of him.

Too Much Curriculum

Throughout Alberta there is a general feeling not only among educationists, but among business men that the formal term end examinations in the schools should be abandoned as too great a tax on the mental and nervous systems of the pupils, and the Edmonton Board of Trade has even gone so far as to adopt a resolution declaring that these examinations are not a good influence, and that there is too much curriculum in the public schools of the city.

Will Not Increase Indemnities

Proposal to Raise Amount to $4,000
Per Session Has Failed

OTTAWA.—The proposal to increase the indemnities to members of the house of commons from $2,500 to $4,000 per session failed to receive the support of the government in the house of commons after nearly a score of members of all parties had expressed themselves in favor of it. The speech of the prime minister, in which he admitted that many members were representing constituencies at a financial sacrifice and intimated that the government was not prepared to take any action for increased indemnities, was not received favorably by the house.

Sir Robert emphasized the fact that the country regarded such an increase at the present time unfavorably. As the prime minister clearly intimated that the government has no intention of bringing in a bill or otherwise providing money for increased indemnities, it would seem that the matter is closed for the present session. A private member has no power to introduce a bill involving a money vote and the government apparently refuses to do so.

Terrible Scenes in Londonderry

Streets Swept By a Murderous Fire
For Sixteen Hours

LONDONDERRY.—Scenes of the most terrible description were enacted here when the streets were swept by a murderous fire for sixteen hours continuously. One man was killed and ten dangerously injured in one section of the city. Several bodies are reported to be lying in Bishop street. Among the wounded was a young girl and those who suffered slight injuries cannot be estimated.

Solving was indulged in on a large scale and there was indiscriminate firing of rifles and revolvers all over the city. The principal conflict took place in Bishop street, where there was a large concentration of Sinn Féiners in the neighborhood of St. Columba's Catholic college and Nazareth home. Sandbags were thrown up, from which a strong fire was directed at the Unionists. There was a vigorous exchange of fire and many casualties resulted on both sides.

SITUATION IN NEAR EAST IS NOW SERIOUS

War Office May Appeal For Reservists to Strengthen the Army Reserve

LONDON.—The war office intends almost immediately to appeal for reservists, according to the Daily Mail. The newspapers say it probably will ask for discharged soldiers and men who served for at least one year during the war and have not since joined the Territorials to enlist in the army reserve.

"The decision," the Daily Mail continues, "is due to the serious view taken by the military authorities on the situation in the Near East. The chief factor in that situation is the rapid spread of the Turkish Nationalists, under Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist commander."

LONDON.—The army estimates coming up again in the house gave the commons an opportunity of discussing at length British policy and operations abroad, special attention being directed to expenditure in Mesopotamia. Former premier Asquith led the attack by moving a resolution in the votes. He declared there was no legal right for a British footing in Mesopotamia and urged the withdrawal of troops.

Premier Lloyd George, defending the vote, pointed out that Britain had responsibility for establishing order and good government in Mesopotamia, and if they were to withdraw now they would later have to reconsider things. The amendment was defeated.

Handed Disarmament Note

PARIS.—The note to Germany regarding disarmament prepared by the council of ambassadors and approved by the allied premiers at the Boulogne conference was handed to the German peace delegation here.

The communication probably will be followed by another note going further into details and telling Germany exactly what she must do to avoid further military occupation of German territory.

Failure of Bolshevism

LONDON.—A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm quotes Mrs. Philip Snowden and Dr. Guest, members of the British Labor Delegation which went to investigate conditions in Russia, and who have arrived in Stockholm on their return journey, as declaring that in their view, soviet Russia could teach western Europe nothing. "Socialism, they predicted, would prevail in Great Britain long before it would in Russia, the message adds."

SHORT OF BREATH Could Hardly Walk Without Resting.

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble, one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there enters a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes: "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting, as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them—three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a new man."

Experimental Work Leads to Improvement Of Our Wheat Crops

It would require a large volume to record all the work done by the Federal Government to improve the wheat crop and to extend its cultivation in Canada. What has been done is of no small importance. From 1886, when the Dominion Experimental Farms came into being, date the first really serious endeavor to improve the wheat crop of Canada.

Shortly after the inauguration of the Experimental Farms System, it was felt by those in authority that something should be done to improve existing grains and to introduce from abroad, hardy, high-yielding and high-quality varieties of grain, which would be likely to mature in districts where the season was somewhat short. With this end in view, some twenty-eight varieties were selected from grain offered for sale on the Corn Exchange in London, England, and representing the produce of the principal grain-growing countries of the world. Amongst these were four varieties of wheat from India—Indian Marquis, Indian Hard Calcutta, Indian Red Calcutta and Indian Club Calcutta. Upon testing these wheats it was decided to obtain both information and further material from the same source. So, under instruction of the Minister of Agriculture, correspondence was opened with the Government of India, and through inquiries were instituted to find out what Indian grains were likely to be suitable to our Canadian climate.

A great many varieties were introduced from India, Northern Russia and other places, but, after testing, were not found very satisfactory in themselves, and are not now grown. However some of these introduced wheats proved very valuable as parents for breeding hardy, high-quality strains.

Amongst other grain introduced by the Experimental Farms System was Bob's, a yellow branched wheat from Australia. The cultivation of this wheat was not pushed by the farmers and millers, as its pale yellow bran was greatly against it from the grading standpoint. The recent day "Red Bob's" is a selection from this wheat.

Around 1903-4, Kubanka, a Durum wheat, was tested out by the Experimental farms. This wheat proved valuable for very dry districts and is practically the only wheat of the earlier introductions grown today.

As mentioned above, most of the foreign introductions were not particularly valuable in themselves, but some of the varieties from Northern Russia and some from India proved to be excellent parents from which to breed new and valuable varieties possessing desirable qualities.

Amongst the first crosses of any importance made by a Fife wheat on the wheats from northern Russia, were Preston, Stanley and Huron, of which the latter is now considered the best. Preston has nearly gone out of general use, and Stanley, while a headless variety and desirable from that standpoint, has been dropped. For besides being easily susceptible to disease, it has a soft kernel and produced flour of rather inferior strength for bread-making. Huron, a red, bearded wheat, is still in use and is a variety very well suited to the eastern provinces, as well as to some places in Alberta and Saskatchewan. This wheat has done remarkably well at Beaverlodge and other points in northern Alberta.

Another wheat, which has made a noticeable stand and yield in farming, outlying districts, is Bishop. This variety has a yellow bran and besides giving a good yield in certain localities making a very good grade of flour when milled. At Fort Vermilion, northern Alberta, it is very highly thought of, as it is comparatively early and gives an excellent crop.

Then, there is that wheat introduced by Dr. Chas. E. Saunders, Dominion cerealist—Marquis, the leading wheat of Canada, which has added twenty million dollars a year to the value of the Canadian wheat crop. The fact that this variety is from three to twelve days earlier in maturing than Red Fife and other varieties formerly grown, and that the grain does not readily shatter out before cutting, plays a large part in its popularity. The straw is rather short and stiff and the heads are dark red in color, hard and yield an excellent flour. Marquis wheat is very productive, especially on rich soils, and in rather dry climates.

Another cross-bred and still earlier ripening variety is Ruby, Ottawa No. 623, which ripens at Ottawa in about ninety-three days after sowing which is from three to twelve days earlier than Marquis. A great future is predicted for this variety because of its early ripening and good yielding qualities. It is especially valuable in districts where Marquis is too late in ripening and where there is a moderate rainfall. Ruby wheat has helped to make profitable the growing of wheat in places where grain crops were formerly frozen.

Prelude, Ottawa No. 135, is one which is outstanding for its earliness, ripening on an average in 83 days from day of sowing. With Prelude's early ripening qualities one does not expect such heavy yields as with later maturing varieties in a good season. Flour of very high baking strength is obtained from this variety but not pale enough to be given the highest rank for color.

Considerable work has been done in the way of producing improved strains of wheat by selection from commercial varieties. The most noteworthy of these selections is Early Red Fife, No. 16, obtained from ordinary Red Fife and from which it differs in a few details—besides being several days earlier, it has a higher yield, larger kernels and some what blunted heads. In baking and milling qualities it is the same as Red Fife and is an excellent wheat for rather dry districts in central and western Canada. It also does well in eastern Canada. Various other selections have been made, White Russian, White Fife, and a host of others, which have more or less local importance, but have not as yet achieved Dominion-wide fame.

The Dominion Government, through the agency of the Experimental farms, has endeavored, by their distribution of free, five-pound samples of wheat, to introduce high quality, good flour making, and high yielding wheats which are especially suitable to the wide variety of districts such as are to be found in Canada. Thus one can see the biggest and value of the work done by the Federal Government to improve the quality and value of the wheat crop in Canada.

Great Discovery of Radium

It is reported that a rich ore, containing high percentage of Uranium Oxide, the chief radium-bearing mineral, is found on the borders of Algonquin Park, and estimated by New York assayers to be worth $4,500 per ton. Work on claims is proceeding and it is expected capital for big development will be available. This greatest producer of Radium may be a fortune for Ontario province.

The Fool Papers

The angry citizen puffed into the office of the city editor.

"See here," he yelled, "what do you mean by publishing my resignation from my political office in this way?" "You gave the story out yourself, didn't you?" asked the editor.

"Of course I did," replied the angry citizen. "But your fool paper prints it under the head of 'Public Improvements'—New York Globe.

Acres Under Crop in Canada

Estimated That Nearly Seventeen Million Acres Was Sown To Wheat

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has just issued the first estimate of the areas sown this spring to grain, hay and potatoes, together with a report of their condition on May 31, as compiled with the returns of crop reports.

The total area estimated to be sown to wheat in Canada for 1920 is 16,921,000 acres. The area to be harvested to fall wheat is 740,300 acres; so that the area under spring wheat is 16,180,700 acres, as compared with 18,453,175 acres in 1919, the slightly decreased area being caused by the unusually late spring.

Of oats, the total acreage sown is estimated at 15,291,000 acres, as compared with 14,952,000 acres last year, an increase of 339,000 acres, or two percent.

Barley has an acreage of 2,257,900; rye, 730,100; peas, 219,065; mixed grains, 900,800; hay and clover, 10,492,900; and Alfalfa, 220,800.

The end of May is rather too soon for definite reports on the areas planted to potatoes; but a preliminary estimate of areas planted or to be planted is 800,400 acres.

Market for Sugar Beets

Good Opportunity for Canada to Increase Acreage Devoted To This Crop

A recent bulletin by the department of trade and commerce on the sugar industry in Canada states that 204,017 tons of sugar beets were used in sugar manufacture in 1918. The cost of the beets at the works was $2,593,715 or $12.22 per ton. In 1918 Canada had 18,000 acres in sugar beets, which yielded 18 tons per acre, at a value of $10.25 per ton. In 1919, the acreage was increased to 24,500, the yield averaged 9.80 tons per acre, and the price advanced to $10.85 per ton. In 1919 sugar was approximately 18 cents per pound; at present, granulated sugar is 23 cents per pound and may be higher. Existing conditions will have a serious bearing upon production. There thus appears to be a good opportunity for Canada to largely increase the acreage devoted to this crop.

Problem of Relieving The Labor Shortage On The Farm

How labor can be attracted back to the land will soon become one of, if not the most important of present-day problems. The supervisor of the census of Oklahoma says eight out of ten of the boys of that state leave the farm for the city when they finish school. Capper's Weekly gives the estimate that only ten percent of the farm boys who went into the army ever came back to the farm to stay. Recently the Kansas Agricultural College reported that representatives of seven of the largest corporations in the United States visited the college in the previous six weeks seeking to employ graduate students. In addition to these corporations, the college has received requests for men from electric companies, construction companies, structural steel firms, and a score of other more or less important concerns. Capper's Weekly asks if the world shall have to go hungry for a time before it finds out that not only must opportunities on the farm be made available as a change for young men as those of the cities, but as safely profitable.

According to a survey of the situation just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, the available supply of farm labor is 72 percent of the normal; in other words that the situation is "more acute now than it was at the immediate close of the war, when the drafted farm boys were still in the army."

Value of Sask's Farm Products

Furnished Last Year Over Fifty-seven Percent of the Spring Wheat

A statement by the bureau of statistics of the provincial department of agriculture shows that the agricultural products of Saskatchewan for the fiscal year ended April 30, and the livestock held in the province were valued at $636,415,107, an increase of $50,681,750 over 1918. The value of the livestock in the province in 1919 showed an increase of $3,648,736 over the preceding year.

Of the grain acreage of the Dominion, Saskatchewan furnished last year 57.32 percent of the spring wheat, 32.25 percent of oats; 18.61 percent of the barley, 85.07 percent of the flax, and 25.29 percent of the rye. A comparison of Saskatchewan's grain production with that of the twelve states of the union shows that this province climbed in 1919 to second place, after having dropped to fourth place in 1918, and this in spite of the fact that the total grain production of the province was 200,000 bushels less in 1919 than in 1918, and not less than 163,000,000 bushels short of the record established in 1915.

Publications for Farmers

Department of Agriculture Issues Nearly Three Hundred and Fifty Bulletins

The new list of publications of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa contains titles of nearly 350 bulletins, circulars, and other pamphlets that deal with agricultural practices. They cover the whole range of agricultural and horticultural pursuits, including dairying, field crops, live stock, orchard and garden crops, poultry, insect and plant diseases, farm building construction, farm machinery and many other topics. The subjects are arranged alphabetically under general titles. Not only are the lists themselves available from the Publications Branch of the department, but any of the publications therein contained.

Two New Playgrounds

Orders in Council are gazetted creating as Dominion parks, the Yoho and Kootenay Parks in British Columbia. The former comprised 476 square miles of land, and the latter 587 square miles.

W. N. U. 1322

Specialists in farm management during the past year have been making investigations in the United States for the Department of Agriculture with regard to the saving in labor coming from the use of modern farm machinery. It was the first comprehensive study of the subject for the purpose of ascertaining by field tests in what way the greatest practical results might be obtained from the minimum of labor. The report of these specialists, recently published by the department, shows that one man does 80 percent more work with a 28-inch horse-drawn plough than with a single bottom plough, that a portable elevator reduces the time of unloading grain about 75 percent, that a hay loader reduces the time of loading 25 percent, and that the corn binder increases the result of man labor 50 percent over cutting and shocking by hand.

The time may come when farming will become an organized and specialized industry, carried on by skilled employees with the assistance of the best machinery procurable and at wage rates commensurate with the amount and value of the product. A beginning in that direction has already been made; whether or not the movement will develop depends upon the result of the effort to get labor back to the land under existing conditions.

Marketing Briquettes From Alberta

Alberta Product Will be Put on the Market Before Another Year

Lignite briquettes manufactured from the natural coal tar and lignite from Alberta coal mines will be placed on the Manitoba market before another year, according to the present plans of the Alberta government. "Government experts are now at work on a solution to extract tar from the extensive sands of Alberta with a view to using it in the manufacture of briquettes," states the provincial premier, "and it is hoped to build up a market sufficient to keep the coal mines running the year round."

Air Express Service to Paris

Airco Service Between London and Paris for Business Men

It is announced that several new and faster Airco aeroplanes are being put into the London to Paris air service, which will insure that business men in London can transact business personally in Paris within four hours after leaving London. This new time service includes the journey by automobile from Piccadilly Circus, London, to Croydon, and a similar journey from the outskirts of Paris to the Place de l'Opera. By this new schedule, it will become possible for business men in a hurry to breakfast in London, travel to Paris by air, lunch and transact business in that city, and return by air express to London in time for dinner in the evening. Two new services will be run, leaving Croydon at 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., with a similar schedule from Paris. It is confidently anticipated that the actual aerial journey between the two capitals will be reduced to within two hours.

A young couple were entertaining a bachelor friend to dinner, and during the evening he was shown their infant son. "Now, Mr. Melowby," said the proud mother, "which of us do you think he is like?"

The guest looked fondly at the tiny mate for a moment, and then replied "Well, of course, intelligence really has not dawned in his countenance yet, but he's wonderfully like both of you."

Nonsense is the sense that differs from your own.

Favorable Crop Reports

Reports Covering the Three Prairie Provinces Are Most Hopeful

Crop conditions through the prairie provinces indicate the best condition of grain crops at corresponding periods for any year since 1904, which year's June period has held the record as ideal, only being once approached in the season 1912. Reports covering over 200 points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta show a much more encouraging situation than was the case in 1915, which was the west's bumper crop year. The general condition of wheat is excellent and in localities where the seeding was late the plants are healthy and vigorous. Nearly 50 percent of the reports show the crop to be a week or 10 days ahead of last year in development. The reports indicate 95 percent of the oat crop was seeded by the first week in June. A heavy seeding of barley is reported and a marked increase in flax. Most of this increased acreage is new breaking.

PALE AND WEAK WIVES AND MOTHERS

Can Regain Health and Strength Through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Many women who had a good color in their girlhood grow pale and colorless when they become wives and mothers. When the fading color in the cheeks and lips is accompanied by a loss of brightness in the eyes and an increasing heaviness in the step, the cause will be found in the state of the blood.

Many causes contribute to the condition of the blood known as anemia. Overwork in the home, a lack of outdoor exercise, insufficient rest and sleep, improper diet—these are a few of the most important things to restore the blood to normal, to build it up so that the color will return to cheeks and lips, brightness to the eyes and lightness to the step. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the great blood builder and nerve strengthener. They begin with the very first dose, and through a fair use make new blood that carries strength and health to every part of the body. The appetite increases, digestion becomes more perfect and energy and ambition return.

The case of Mrs. Wm. McNish, Abbott Street, Brockville, proves the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind. Mrs. McNish says: "I was quite young when I married, and in raising my family I became a wreck. I became so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without sitting down to rest my breath. I slept poorly and at times my nerves would twitch so that I could not keep still, and I was in constant misery. I tried many medicines but they did not help me; indeed, they made my general condition until one day a friend told me that she had been in a somewhat similar condition and had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I decided to try this medicine. After the use of a couple of boxes I felt that my health was better. My appetite was better and I slept better. By the time I had used half a dozen boxes I felt like a new woman, my health had fully returned and I could do my household work with ease. In view of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me I cannot recommend them too highly.

The best time to begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the moment you feel the least bit out of sorts. The sooner you do so the sooner you will regain your old time energy. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hard to Tell

Helen annoyed her father with questions while he tried to read the newspaper. One evening, among other things, she demanded:

"Papa, what do you do at the store all day?"

"Oh," he answered briefly, "nothing."

Helen was silent a moment. Then she asked:

"But how do you know when you're done?"

Do not suffer another day with indigestion, flatulence, or other ailments. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will relieve you at once and, when taken daily, will build up your system and give you a new lease on life. It is a food, not a medicine, and it is the only one of its kind. It is the only one that has been out since 1919. It is the only one that has been out since 1919. It is the only one that has been out since 1919.

The deceased left Crossfield some two years ago to look after her sister who was in failing health, at Nebraska, U. S. A. she however passed away very shortly after her arrival. Mrs. Coffin, as she then was, eventually married her departed sister's husband and took up residence in Nebraska, where they resided until about six weeks ago when Mrs. Dalton, who had been feeling ill also created an homesick feeling for Alberta, accompanied by her husband they made the trip home and they resided with her daughter Mrs. Clyde Brown, until Tuesday of last week. Mrs. Dalton's condition became such that her removal to the General Hospital was considered advisable. Deceased came to this country 17 years ago taking up homestead duties east of Crossfield and completed the terms obtaining her patent for the land on which she resided for a good number of years. The deceased was 56 years of age, leaves four children 2 sons and 2 daughters, Ora E. of Crossfield and Walter J. of Donalda. Mrs. Clyde Brown of Crossfield and Mrs. P.
